

Maria Montessori used to point to a Raphael painting of the Madonna and Child, and say it should be in every Montessori school, because it expressed what Montessori education is about - the tenderness of a mother and child.

Madonna della seggiola