

Woodrow Wilson's daughter, Margaret, trained as a Montessori director and had a school in the basement of the White House.

A professional soprano, who often performed at Army camps during the war, she never married, eventually moving to India to live as a mystic.

